Ivybridge U3A - Jean Sherrell

Ivybridge U3A is inviting everyone to their Open Meeting on Monday July 17th at the Watermark from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Please come along and see what we have to offer. You will be able to find out more about our existing groups and meet many of our members.

The Ivybridge branch was established 7 years ago and has become a much valued organisation for those who are retired or no longer working full time.

We have talks at our monthly general meetings at the Watermark on the 3rd Monday of each month. Throughout each month over 30 different interest groups meet in various locations. Some are out and about walking, looking at local history, natural history or industrial history on Dartmoor. Others are indoors with interests in music, art, card games, Science and technology and many others. . You might even suggest a new subject that others may find of interest.

Concerts given by our choir have raised over £10,000 for local charities.

Last year we were declared joint winner of the Nick Cummins Community Award. This was "in recognition of what it has done to encourage the meeting of the third generation of the town, preventing loneliness and isolation of the over fifties. "It has stretched minds, kept members fit and active and broadened horizons", said the Mayor. "Retirement has never opened so many doors."

A huge thank you to everyone who came to Ugfest, helped set up, cleared up, donated and supported our raffle and silent auction. Unbelievably £4,250.00 was raised for the pre-school, breakfast and after school club children - an amazing result from everyone's hard work. This will be an important step in the development of our plans for a building on the school site!

Thank you too for supporting the local community; the Village Hall committee were delighted with the £178.00 donated from the cake stall.

The children are thoroughly enjoying the freedoms the better weather brings and love experiencing the long grass, flowers and mud in our rural environment. At Forest School the children have been doing crayon rubbings, enacting pulling themselves up 'steep mountains', whilst the rope swing is also proving extremely popular. Inside, the children have been sowing cress pots and runner beans (the latter which shot up over half term) and they have enjoyed observing these grow alongside their 'Jack and the Beanstalk' display.

The boys and girls always relish 'Baking Wednesdays' and have made sandwiches, cutting them into squares, rectangles and triangles and jam tarts, involving practising rolling, cutting and scooping.

On Polling day the children took the opportunity to visit Paignton Zoo, returning with stories of shrimp-eating flamingos, baby giraffes and swimming crocodiles! July is also full of activities: The first week sees the Pre-Schoolers' own Sports Day. The keen participants have been practicing keeping bean bags on their heads and balancing rubbers on spoons in preparation for some of the activities. Weather permitting, the children will then be inviting their Teddy Bear's to picnic with them mid-July. The last day of the summer term then sees the group come together for an end of year party and Leavers' Celebration.

The close links with Ugborough Primary make the transition up to 'Big School' a smooth one for many. This Celebration is a chance to reflect on many of the formative experiences these young children have had during their time at Pre-School and to be thankful for the excellent provision the staff continue to provide.

The Greenwood Consort present-

Enlightened Darkness- three 'dark' works from the Age of the Enlightenment

Vivaldi: "La Notte"- a flute concerto conjuring up the sound world of the night, with eerie, trills, rushing phantoms, and a timeless evocation of "il sonno" - sleep.

Handel: "Spande ancor" and "Cuopre tal volto il cielo" - two cantatas for bass voice with two violins and continuo: Both of these use imagery of the night and of storms to depict the troubled psychic landscape of an unrequited lover.

The programme is bookended by two works in A minor by Telemann: the famous Suite in A minor for recorder and strings and the less well-known double concerto for two recorders and strings.

The ray of light in the programme is Pachelbel's well-loved Canon.

Sunday 2nd July 7.30 p.m. at St Peter's Church, Ugborough

Free entry - recommended donation £10 for church bell fund - includes glass of wine

The Beacon Federation - Executive Headteacher - Mrs. Jane Byrne

Ugborough Primary School.

Being part of a Federation means so many more opportunities are open to our eager children. Recent events have demonstrated this at its best. Year 5 from both schools visited the Theatre Royal's TR2 workshop to start their rehearsals for "Mollie of the Midfield", Our Robotics professionals from Year 6 presented their work at Plymouth University and the intrepid adventurers in our 3 Junior Ten Tors teams from both schools took part in the annual overnight challenge on Dartmoor. (see below).

We are so, so, proud of you all and without the support of our incredible parents and staff these opportunities would simply not be possible.

It is that time of year once again when we look at welcoming new children to school in September. They have had their first "formal" visit with parents and we look forward to seeing them in school for further familiarisation visits between now and the end of term.

At the other end of the school, Year 6 are of course preparing to move on to secondary school and most will attend ICC's Transition Day on 11th July.

Out of School Achievements: Congratulations to Rio, Evelyn, Darcy, Matthew, Lucy, Millie, Haydn, Jack and Isaac who all battled the heat and successfully completed the Junior Ten Tors event last week. Well done everyone! Thank you, again, to parents for all the to-ing and fro-ing with lifts and a special thank you to Mr Kellas for all his hard work and commitment!

There are a number of special events before the end of term and some of them are shown below. Please check the school's website for more information.

Wednesday 12th and Thursday 13th July- Year 6 Evening Performance of Mystery at Magpie Manor at The Watermark

Wednesday 19th July- Hillhead Graduation at 2 p.m.in the School Hall

Friday 21st July- Year 6 Leavers' Assembly (p.m.)

Friday 21st July- Last day of Summer Term

Monday 4th and Tuesday 5th September- Non Pupil Days

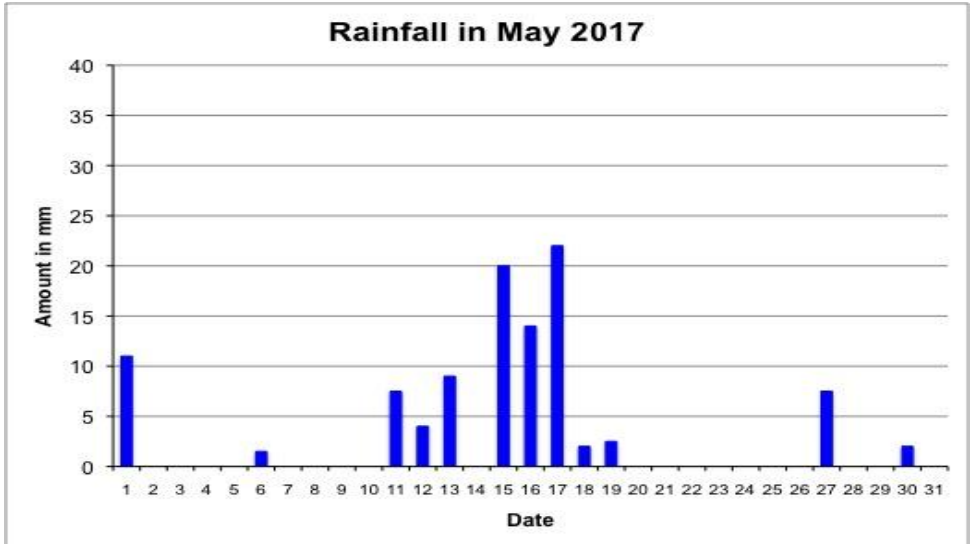

Wednesday 6th September- First Day of Autumn Term

The summer fair was a resounding success, raising just under £1,000. This money (and other monies raised) will go towards refurbishing the jungle gym area, which is well past its best. A big, big thank you to all parents for supporting the fair and, in turn, your children. It is very much appreciated.

Rainfall at Shellwood Hill George Arnison

After a lovely, dry April, we had a return to 'business as usual' in May when I recorded 103mm (just over 4") of rain at Shellwood Hill. This compares to my eight year average for May of 72mm, and the previous four Mays of 61.5mm (2016), 93mm (2015), 120mm (2014) and 85mm (2013).

Beryl's Bookworms - Ann Povey

For our June read we looked at 'My Brilliant Friend' by Elena Ferrante, the first of a series of four books dubbed "The Neapolitan Novels" translated from the Italian by Ann Goldstein of "The New Yorker" magazine. There was a mixed response to the book. Whilst it was well written, beautiful and descriptive, it is a meaty book, and was said to be an 'artichoke'* of a book, meaning hard to read! (*For our vegetarian members!)

The narrator having the same name as the author set us all discussing who the author really is, as she declines to be interviewed, although people worldwide have made attempts to guess her identity. Elena Ferrante wants her books to speak for themselves, and for readers not to reflect on who wrote them.

The book starts with a prologue with a 66 year old Elena Greco getting a call from her lifetime friend Lila Cerullo's son to say his mother had vanished leaving no trace behind her. The narrator Elena then decides to write the whole story of her life with Lila, and begins with telling of their childhood in a poverty-stricken district outside Naples, growing up on rough streets, in close proximity with other families who are invariably at each other's throats! Abuse and brutality are an everyday occurrence. Lila has the ability to learn easily from a very early age, and together she and Elena work through languages and literature, one self-taught, the other passing exams and moving into higher education, yet with elements of competitiveness and rivalry. The story follows their hard lives and loves, up to Lila's marriage at the age of sixteen to a local self-made man of the district. In a very personal scene at the end of the book, Lila insists that Elena continues her studies and says to her

"You're my brilliant friend. You have to be the best of all ...". Hopefully, what happens next can be found in the subsequent novels.

The scores given reflected the varying views on this book, but again averaged out at 3.75 out of five.

Kingsbridge Jazz Club - Chris Weaving

For our July gig, are delighted to welcome back for their fifth visit 'Fret and Fiddle', the vibrant and award winning Gypsy swing band.

Andy Bole, on guitar, powerfully and sensitively leads, and the exciting violinist and vocalist Salene, fronts this recently expanded lively quintet.

Their inspiration comes from Stephane Grappelli, Django Reinhardt and the small string bands of the 30's and 40's.

Their repertoire covers Gypsy and the hits of Cole Porter, Rodgers & Hart, George Gershwin and Hoagy Carmichael along with some of Grappelli's own memorable songs.

Have you considered a career in Selling?

A unique opportunity has arisen in the Fair Day Bric a Brac store. Unfortunately our specialist sales staff, previously recruited from Pagham, have not been able to obtain a visa. Any assistance in running the stall from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. (with generous zero hour conditions for time off) would be appreciated - please contact the editor.

Your Stars Tonight. I have been accompanying the steamed dieter on a journey to Ireland via Lundy, Cornwall, Brittany and Wales. It seems to have turned into a Standing Stones and Dolmen tour as we drive round the corner only to find another relic left by our Neolithic ancestors. They were the first humans to invent farming and like a rising tide rippled out from the Middle East around 8000 BC . They covered Western Europe from Spain via Ireland and the Orkneys all the way to Sweden in the next 4000 years, leaving a legacy of graves and monuments. My personal favourite (so far) has been the river of standing stones at Carnac which winds for miles across Brittany in a bizarrely mysterious logic. A clear moonless night on the Cape de Raz gave me an opportunity to ponder their makers' mindset and also to find a personal peace with the loss of several friends and loved ones in the last year.

As dusk finally deepened into night I settled down with my binoculars in the summer warmth of the silent campsite and first found the kite shape of the constellation of Boötes which would be my guide to finding the elusive comet C/2015 Johnson. Unfortunately Boötes was almost directly overhead and the resultant stiff neck was scarcely rewarded when I eventually found its faint hazy patch of light . By the beginning of July it will have faded before disappearing into the furthest limits of the Solar System for eternity.

I then did the astronomical version of Sudoku - trying to pick out the faint stars that make up the constellation Draco Serpens using a star atlas. Its distinctive triangular head was surprisingly easy to find just below Boötes - but being a serpent, the constellation sinuously winds around nearly one sixth of the sky and this made star hopping navigation hard work.

That brought me down to the southern horizon and the "T" of the upraised tail of Scorpius, with the deep red bright star Antares marking the head of the Scorpion - a constellation which always makes me feel slightly nervous. And then Saturn rose above the horizon just to the west. Through the binoculars it appeared like a flattened mandarin orange because its rings are inclined towards us almost doubling the apparent size. Sadly this time around Saturn is very low in the night sky and as a result the distortions of the atmosphere make a clear view difficult.

It was now well past one o'clock , my eyes were now fully adapted to night vision and it was the darkest hour. I was rewarded by the gorgeous beauty of the Milky Way arcing across the sky. Viewed with the binoculars it becomes a river of stars beyond counting.

Life and death, ripples of humanity, rivers of menhirs, rivers of stars, warm summer nights and the cold eternity of stars - what does it all mean? If only the steamed dieter would let me have another pint of this delicious Galway Guinness then I am sure all will become clear.

USS is an integral part of life in the parish now and in July it will have been running for 4 years.

The fortnightly gathering in the village hall meets so many needs for so many people and it couldn't run without everybody helping and pulling together.

We have a committee of 4 people who meet once every 2 months. Our roles include, Chair, Treasurer, Secretary and Volunteer co-ordinator.

We would very much like to expand our committee to include someone who is actively engaged with social media to help us to promote USS in a variety of ways.

USS is very lucky to have a large number of people who help with setting up the room, serving refreshments and clearing up at the end. The expression "many hands make light work" really sums up the complete operation.

If you feel you could spare 15 minutes 3 or 4 times a year to help set up the hall please e-mail USS or contact Vici Hemming.

September seems a long way at the moment, but USS will have its AGM early on in the month and all positions on the committee will be open for nominations.

If you have any questions regarding the roles, please ask us or e mail

A packed public session started the June Parish Council Meeting, to discuss the planning application for a care home for up to 5 boys at Quillet, Wrangaton. The Parish Council listened to the concerns of local residents and objected to the proposal on the grounds of traffic generation, the absence of amenities and a supporting community in Wrangaton, and queried the adequacy of septic tank arrangements

Planning applications - Parish Council recommendations are given in bold below:

The bus shelter in Bittaford has been made more weather proof, thanks to the hard work of Cllr Laurie Nelson and Viv Howard. Laurie also intends to repaint Bittaford's other bus shelter and, together with the new landscape planting, the heart of Bittaford certainly looks smarter.

The Annual Parish Council Accounts formed the focus of discussion, following receipt of the internal auditor's report - which did not reveal any major issues. Over the last year, balances have increased from £24,350 to £34,000, although much of that increase is for earmarked projects, such as the planned clamberstack at Bittaford playground. Day-to-day expenses, such as administration, remained little altered, with the main increases in expenditure relating to playground maintenance and the community lengthsman service (some of which was grant-aided). Transparency Code legislation requires that the accounts are displayed on the Parish Council website - have a look at <https://ugboroughparishcouncil.org/parish-council-accounts/201617-audit/>

Travellers at Hillhead continue to be an issue within the Parish. However, Cllr John Tucker, Leader of SHDC, has appreciated our concerns and promised the Parish Council that it was '...likely that an enforcement notice will be issued very soon'. So watch this space (again).

St. Peter's Church, Uqborough

A letter from our Priest in Charge- Rev'd David Sayle

This last week and the forthcoming weeks are full of wonderful community fetes and activities, which bring our communities together in expectation, joy and happiness. It is a privilege to be part of these community forming events but I write at a time when many communities are experiencing such a heavy pain and loss and naturally our thoughts and prayers are with all those caught in the midst of these tragic and life changing experiences.

As a Church, we have recently finished the 10 days of prayer, entitled 'ThyKingdomCome', in which different churches from eight five countries were involved. Our Archbishop, Justin Welby, described it as an "extraordinary joining together of Christians all around the world to pray two prayers" and our own local experience as we travelled from church to church in the Mission Community was a real sense of God's presence especially as we were joined by different people both from within our Mission Community and the surrounding areas. The big question now is what next and our Archbishop has raised this same question, if you wish to hear his answer, you can watch it at @thykingdom_come.

Here in our Mission Community as we too constantly seem to 'sigh' whenever we hear a news bulletin, can I suggest whether praying is part of your regular day or not, that we pledge to take a moment each day, to be still, to be quiet to reflect and then to simply say the only prayer, Jesus has asked us to say,

Our Father, who art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name;
thy kingdom come;
thy will be done;
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those who trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation;
but deliver us from evil.
For thine is the kingdom,
the power and the glory,
for ever and ever. Amen.
or you may simply want to say "God, may your kingdom come'.

And as we continually pray these words, we become tuned to the ways of God and then I invite us to ask the question Archbishop Welby poses to us, "what are we going to do for us to be part of the answer to that prayer?" Who knows what the answer will be but it "will be about meeting need, about aligning our actions with the priorities and will of God".

Exciting times ahead and we will be astonished how God changes his world, through our small and sensitive acts of kindness, generosity and love.
