Preparations are well underway for Ugfest 2018 which takes place on 16th June. As ever we are very grateful to those supporting this unique fundraiser - be it by providing the entertainment, in the running of the event, or by attending it. Tickets quickly sold out for this over 18s event. If you'd like your name to be added to the waiting list in case of any return tickets please contact Catherine Gwynne (07817 175460) or Aimee Godfrey (07843611929).

In the run up to the Royal Wedding the Pre-School children held a tea party to celebrate. This provided an opportunity to not just eat fairy cakes and scones, which the children had made, but also to talk about any weddings or family events the children themselves had been to or involved in.

More recently the children have been focussing on the mathematical element of the curriculum. This involves problem-solving, sorting and classifying (which is very useful when it comes to tidying up!) as well as counting, recognising numbers and concepts such as time, shape and capacity. At home the children have been spotting door numbers, prices of items whilst shopping, how many coffees their parents drink, different attributes of shapes etc. Parents/carers are encouraged to celebrate home based achievements by noting it on a 'wow' card which is then displayed and can be shared amongst friends in Pre-School, which is something the children always enjoy.

Meanwhile the children have greatly been enjoying the warmer weather, especially at Forest School and they are looking forward to the summer term events after half term, the first of which is their very own Sports Day on the morning of the 10th July.

Ugborough Local History Group - Merryl Docker

It's time for our annual member's summer visit, details to follow. This is the last meeting of the season.

HOLBEfest takes place on Saturday 9th June at Flete Park (PL21 9NU)
Music festival and Community fun day with great live music and entertainment.
Tickets are on sale at the gate.
Family £20 on the day.

The Beacon Federation - Executive Headteacher - Mrs. Jane Byrne

Ugborough Primary School.

May was very busy. SATS week came and went and our Year 6 children were utterly brilliant in their approach to the week (thank you parents so much for such a positive attitude). They were rewarded with an enormous chocolate cake in courtesy of our very own Mary Berry aka Mrs Byrne.

Our Year 4 Grenville Houser's come back tired and happy. What a week they had! Such fantastic weather and tales to be told of incredible adventures.

Our federation children did incredibly well, in the Young Art Devon Exhibition with prize winners across three age groups, highly commended certificates galore and all children's work displayed in the beautiful setting of The Spanish barn at Torre Abbey. There was a total of 23 schools in the exhibition....

Plus an overall 1st Prize to the Beacon Federation Art Department for originality and quality of work, with a Cheque for £150. It was truly delightful to see so many of our talented children, and parents at the exhibition over the whole of the weekend for such a fantastic cause. We look forward to finding out the total raised. Please see our website for photographs of the event.

A Bite Back In Time

Earlscombe class presents A Bite Back In Time: a war-time café featuring WWII ration-themed food, drinks, entertainment and art. While we are aiming to put our entrepreneurial skills into action, the class would like all profit from this project to go to charity. The class industry project (World of Work) assembly date is set for Friday 8th June after school at 3:30 here in the school hall and our classroom.

PTA News- Shelley Hutcheon 07720765014

Your hard work and support this year has been so helpful in ensuring that our children benefit from new equipment and enjoy trips out of school. We have been able to support the following -

- Forest School equipment £250
- MFM Theatrical Company - the whole school were able to enjoy the performances
- Maths Equipment £1,000
- £200 per class for trips out of school
- Wet Play Games
- Soft balls for the playground
- Mufti money before Easter purchased loads of craft materials which we used for the Easter Craft Day and there is a lot left over for another craft day.

Money raised this term will go towards mending the Jungle Gym in the top field.

On Sports Day we will be serving Cream Teas and Cake; Pimms and gin cocktails at Ugfest and Pimms at Ugborough Fair - not too much of a hardship to support those two events!! Any help at these events would be amazing!

Dates for your diary- there are several class and Federation trips also planned so please check the Federation website for details.

Friday 8th June- Earlscombe Class - A Bite Back in Time.

Saturday 16th June- Ugfest (sold out)

Ivybridge U3A - Jean Sherrell

The June General Meeting of Ivybridge U3A will be held on Monday June 18th at 2 p.m. in the Watermark.

Our Speaker William Shimell will talk about "Life and Times of an Opera Singer"

This will be a light hearted talk about his life as an International opera singer and as an Actor. He will also share some stories about things that happened as he transferred to the role of film actor.

Beryl's Bookworms -

'I am watching you' by Teresa Driscoll, our local Ugborough author, was reviewed by the group at our last meeting. This is Teresa's third novel, although she has been writing short stories and magazine articles for many years before launching her books.

The story revolves around a missing girl, Anna, and the guilt felt by close friends, family and Ella, a florist who was one of the last people to see her. Each chapter initially introduces a new character and ends on a cliff hanger so the reader has little idea who may or might have been involved in her disappearance.

The book created a lively discussion on teenage issues with differing opinions. We felt the characters could have been further developed to give them more depth but we all agreed the book was well written. The language flowed making it an easy read. We all read to the end, which often isn't the case, as we were kept guessing to the last few pages as to Anna's disappearance. Not an ending we expected!

We were delighted to hear that Teresa has signed a film deal for this book with B4U Motion Pictures, with Indian language rights, hopefully British films will follow and Ugborough could pose as the Cornish village in the story.

Amazon has this book as one of their best sellers and we agreed that this would make a good holiday read. We marked it 2.5 out of 5.

We look forward to Teresa Driscoll's next novel 'The Friend' in which Matthew the private investigator in this book returns.

Next month's book is 'Mothering Sunday' by Graham Swift.

Rainfall at Shellwood Hill - George Arnison

During April I recorded 120.5mm (just over 4 1/2 ") of rainfall at Shellwood Hill. This was well above my nine year average for April of 76.8mm, and in fact was the second wettest April I've recorded. However there were signs that the interminably wet winter of 2017/18 might just be coming to an end...in that we had the longest 'dry spell' (seven days!) since the beginning of November.

Ugborough Sustainable Saturdays -Sarah Scanlon

Last Saturday morning as I was displaying the USS banners around the village, I looked up at a perfect cornflower blue sky and took a couple of minutes to see what a perfect day it was, sun shining and green foliage everywhere.

It was an ideal day to go for a walk, do some gardening or go to the beach and I would not have been surprised if USS was very quiet indeed.

But, after a slow start, the hall began filling up and there was soon a crowd of people buying, chatting and socialising.

I did a little survey asking people why they had come to USS that day and without fail, all the responses followed the same theme:

- I come here to socialise and be part of the community
- I am not from this parish but am made to feel so welcome that I feel part of Ugborough and enjoy coming to other events held in the Village.
- I love coming and meeting friends.
- It makes you part of the community, and everyone is so friendly.
- I have a stall here, it's certainly not about making money! but catching up with everyone.
- I can get all the village gossip here and a decent cup of coffee.

So next time you think life is too busy, you will be surprised. You can pop in for 10 minutes and then go on your way to do other activities feeling happier, well informed and refreshed.

Dates for USS June 9th and 23rd, and July 7th and 21st.

Your Stars Tonight I was very gratified to be invited by the steamed dieter to join her and Belinda VW on an extended tour of southern Europe, albeit in the roles of chief astrologer and washerman. The thought of being closer to the equator with long balmy clear night skies was most welcome as George Arnison's wonderful monthly rainfall reports emphasise - it really has been a long dreary winter and spring - with a pathetically limited number of nights suitable for astronomy. And yet perversely - because this is after all, Devon - at the beginning of May we had a string of clear nights. The lengthening days means that it does not get "proper dark" until after 11 pm which led to a string of very late nights (or very early mornings) for Ugborough's stargazers- and some very bleary eyes at work next morning.

And in the same way as I was able to peer through a gap in the clouds above Britain at the heavens above, at this time of the year there is a gap in the stars which is like a window through the billions of stars and cosmic dust which make up our own Milky Way galaxy into the infinity beyond. In the area of sky between the constellations of Leo and Virgo several dozen faint fuzzy galaxies can be glimpsed with binoculars. With a back garden telescope this becomes hundreds and with a Hubble space telescope it becomes millions of galaxies, each containing billions of stars - a mind blowing glimpse of how incredible our universe is.

It also gives me an opportunity to say a last, posthumous, thank you to Elizabeth, our next door neighbour, who never once complained about my nocturnal astronomical scufflings and occasional muffled curses when I dropped a lens or camera in the dark - directly under her bedroom window - so thank you Elizabeth.

Having left Ugborough's sun dappled greenery the balmy nights tour was somewhat discomforted on arrival in Mid France to be plunged into an unseasonal 200 mm of snow (which was not mentioned in the Holiday Brochure) and this rather spurred our journey south. Eventually we arrived at St Tropez along with most of the population of Germany. Keeping one eye open for Philip Green, with whom I wish to discuss pension planning, we sat in the glorious evening warmth in a beach bar on the Cote d'Estere. Venus was high and bright in the darkening western sky while Jupiter balanced it low above the horizon in the south - and this will continue throughout June.

Looking across the bay I could see the lights of St Raphael twinkling in the distance. This moved me to remark that this demonstrated the refraction of the light by water vapour in the air and why it is so difficult to get good astronomical seeing in Ugborough. The steamed dieter reflectively drunk deep of her glass of Rose, before replying that it reminded her of the glitter of glassware and china, plus my sparkling repartee at our bric a brac stall at Ugborough Fayre .

Sometimes I wonder who is taking the mickey out of whom.

Ugborough Dramatic Society are planning another Pantomime at the end of January/ beginning of February 2019.

Take a stand against scams

Did you know that organised scams cost UK residents billions of pounds each year? Anyone can be scammed regardless of age, gender, education or economic background.

June is national Scams Awareness Month and Citizens Advice South Hams is joining in with Trading Standards to spread the word to stop more people across South Devon from being scammed by organised criminals.

As a local charity we are taking part in the campaign encouraging people to report and talk about scams, victims don't always admit they have been targeted due to shame, stigma or not being aware a crime has taken place. It's important to destigmatise and encourage more reporting because scams are a growing problem. We want to see local communities working together talking to each other and especially keeping an eye on vulnerable people living in their area. Being scammed can ruin people's finances.

Things to be aware of -

- A phone call, letter, email or text arriving unexpectedly

- Winning a lottery or competition when you can't remember buying a ticket
- Being asked to send or give money in advance of services or goods
- Someone ringing you and asking for personal details for security reasons
- Being urged to respond quickly so you don't get time to think or talk to anyone

Talk -

Janie Moor, CEO of Citizens Advice South Hams said: "Scams are perpetrated by ruthless individuals who will stop at nothing to defraud vulnerable and unsuspecting members of our community. It can be devastating to those affected.

The more we talk about scams the more we reduce the crime. Our most recent campaign is aimed at encouraging people to talk more about scams - and to be scam aware. If you are worried about a friend, neighbour or relative encourage them to be vigilant. The best advice is to follow your instincts - if you are suspicious of anything at all, walk away, close the door or put the phone down."

Farmhouse Lunch- a message from Sue Johns

Dear All

Thank you to ALL those who worked so hard to make the Farmhouse Lunch such a fantastic success - and to all those who were unable to be here but kindly sent donations.

It was such a happy social occasion and just everybody said what a wonderful time they'd had and that the food was as superlative as ever.

As a huge bonus we made £511 for General Funds- quite amazing!

Thank you,

(and thank you so much to Sue for arranging this wonderful occasion once again.)

Ugborough Church Bell Restoration - Anthony Lugg

On Wednesday 9th May the remaining 5 Ugborough bells were recast in the presence of the villagers who joined the second outing to, and tour of, the Taylor's foundry at Loughborough.

For the long standing ringers amongst us, I must say this was a little emotional. The decision to have our motley set of bells, the bells we all had a latent affection for, recast was not any easy one to make. However we were greeted in the foundry tuning room with the sight of our tenor bell, in its new form, standing upturned on the huge vertical lathe, ready for Girdar, the Master Tuner, to work his magic, any lingering misgivings disappearing when the bell was struck as a pre-tuning teaser. Stood proudly to the side, waiting their turn, were bells 6 & 7, bearing the inscriptions chosen by the generous donors that contributed to the cost of their recast.

We were fortunate to have Chris Weaving join us and I am sure his photographic record of the visit will have made its way to the village website by now.

By the time you read this we should know the success of the final castings and have a return date for the bells. We are hoping to collect the bells at the end of July so that they can be displayed over the first weekend in August, to accompany our celebratory flower festival 'Bells in Bloom', watch this space.

Rather than taking a four month holiday, the ringers have been busy preparing the bell chamber for the bells' return. With unprecedented access we have taken the opportunity to clear the chamber of accumulated debris, remove and treat the surface corrosion on the bell frame and give the frame a fresh coat of paint.

As ever a big thank you to everyone for your support for the project and we hope you can take the opportunity to view the bells when on display. We will keep you posted.

Anthony & the Ringing Team
